

IU ALUMNI OF LEXINGTON

Attention all Hoosiers!

It's finally here! The IU Alumni Club of Lexington, Ky. has arrived! Although we're in the early stages, we are on to something big here in Lexington!

Our goal is to create a group of IU alumni that promotes Indiana University to prospective students and provides graduates with a unique opportunity to socialize, serve the community with other IU alumni and friends, and, of course, have some fun!

Other benefits this group will offer:

- Business networking
- Making new friends and revisiting with old acquaintances
- IU basketball!
- Events with other nearby IU alumni clubs

Getting started:

Let's show the Lexington area what Hoosier Pride is all about. We need updated information about you, so we can build this club into one of the best around. Let us know what you have been up to!

Please complete the form below, including any professional activities, personal achievements, graduate study, or other successes since departing IU. Only the alumni club will use this information.

A great team:

We are also looking for sharp Hoosiers to serve on the local organizing committee. This committee will meet regularly to develop programs and activities. Please indicate your interest on the form.

If you have any questions about the club or the local organizing committee, please contact Ron Rogers at (859) 272-1980 or rrogers@3rdwav.com or Max Fiscus at (859) 245-4980.

On behalf of the IU Alumni Association and the local organizing committee, thank you in advance. We look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Ron Rogers
